Presenting problems: Child A is a boy who likes being praised and doing special jobs, however whenever he is presented with a task or any kind of challenge, finds a way of using disruptive behaviour to avoid it. This has resulted in him leaving the class and roaming the school on several occasions, in addition to being abusive to staff, even threatening to hit one.
Previous interventions/threshold (what have you tried, how did it go): Tasks in the classroom are appropriately differentiated and well within his ability, however he seems afraid to start or to succeed. He receives weekly visits from a youth worker to help him with his behaviour outside of school.
Parents/carers view: Parents are willing to try anything that will help him as they find him such a handful to manage.
