The Mentoring
School

Helping you to reach more children

We have a simple aim, we want to help you to enhance the reach of your work using our courses. In turn, that helps your teams improve the support they are offering to educational settings. We see it as a win-win situation.

The Mentoring School is devoted to helping people deliver life-changing mentor courses, whether it's online or in-person.

Our suite of mentoring courses includes the following areas:

- Preschool SEMH interventions
- Primary SEMH interventions
- Secondary/FE SEMH interventions
- Academic readiness
- Careers
- Plus more

Please ask if your area of mentoring is not mentioned as it may be in development.

Our work is focussed on helping our Delivery Partners to have the impact through our high-quality training.

How we support you

We are passionate about making the difference to people's lives with mentoring, therefore we ensure that we actively support our Delivery Partners through:

- ☑ Training
- ☑ Learner's portal
- ☑ Marketing literature
- ☑ Telephone support
- ☑ Email support
- ☑ Trainer updates
- ☑ Webinars

How does the money work?

The way we work is simple to get you set up:

1. You pay one Registration and Trainer training fee.
2. You pay us a small resource (and optional assessment) fee per learner.

There are extra fees for things like re-assessing a candidate or appealing a result, these are listed in our Price List.

How does registration work?

Our registration involves a simple 6-step process:

1. You complete the registration and agreement form and pay the Registration fee
2. We undertake due diligence checks
3. We agree assessment procedures with you
4. We assess your registration
5. When approved we train your trainers
6. You deliver your first course!

About The Mentoring School

The Mentoring School was established by international behaviour expert Richard Daniel Curtis in 2016. For several years his special needs consultancy, The Root Of It, had been delivering training for mentors working in primary and secondary schools in the UK.

Since then, they have expanded their training to cover a variety of fields, including training for mentoring executives, business owners, employees, apprentices, youth, refugees, homeless and more.

They have worked with the UK Cabinet Office and Home Office, schools and colleg-

HOW ARE COURSES DELIVERED?

There are normally three ways to deliver our courses:

- eLearning We provide you with access to our 10-15 minute long online modules, online resources and you provide Learner support.
- In-person We provide you with the resources to deliver our courses in your centre or on your client's premises. Your Learners have access to online resources from us.
- Fast-track Your Learners access some eLearning modules, online resources and we provide you with the resources to deliver a final in-person day (only available for some courses).

es, universities, public sector bodies, charities, corporations and small and medium businesses.

Corporate Responsibility

For every person you train, we will provide training for a volunteer working with refugees in a camp. We partner with charities to provide eLearning for volunteers supporting their work in camps. We call this Train 1 Train 2.
